3. Third-Party & Operational Costs — Billed Separately at Actual

| Item                                                                                                           | Cost                                     | Billed To / When                                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Google Play Console — Developer AccountOne-time registration fee, required to publish on Play Store | ₹2,100(one-time)       | Paid once at submission stage. Client's own account (Client retains ownership) or via RAGSPRO at cost. |
| Apple Developer ProgramMandatory annual fee, required to publish on App Store                       | ₹8,500(per year)       | Paid annually, direct to Apple. Renews every year the app stays live on App Store.                     |
| Backend Server &amp; Database HostingAPI server, database, image/media storage                      | ₹2,500 – ₹4,000/ month | Billed monthly at actual usage. Scales with traffic/orders — starts at the lower end.                  |
| AI Visualization API UsageAI wall visualization + AR image processing calls                         | ₹3,000 – ₹7,000/ month | Billed monthly at actual consumption only — you pay for what customers actually use, nothing idle.     |

Transparency note: All four items above are shown at real market cost with full visibility — RAGSPRO adds no margin on them. Monthly running cost (server + AI API) is estimated at ₹5,500 – ₹11,000/month for normal business usage, only once the app is live and being used by customers. Development cost (Section 2) is charged once, regardless of usage.
